

ACCOUNTS

Published by the Union County Historical Society, Lewisburg PA, 17837

About this Issue's Authors:

Susan Waggoner, a native Hoosier, retired from directing public libraries and found a home in a log house on Shamokin Mountain in Union County to be near her daughter and family. She is a member of the Board of the Historical Society.

Mike and Carol Manbeck are residents of Buffalo Township, Union County with an active interest in preserving local history. Mike is currently serving on the Archives and Museum Committee of the Union County Historical Society. Carol was formerly the Office Manager for the Society.

Jonathan Bastian is the author of Lumbering, a Way of Life at Pardee (2013). A life-long Union County resident, he has served on the board of the Union County Historical Society and writes and lectures on the lumbering industry of late 19th Century Union County.

Georganna Fitzgerald Kresl is a sixth-generation Texan who has lived in the Lewisburg area since 1969. As a classically trained pianist, she was a member of the faculty at Susquehanna University for 16 years before changing careers to school psychology. Churchville is her virgin venture into this type of research and writing.

Tom Walker was born in Lewisburg. His family moved from Mifflinburg to Bucks County, Pa., in 1958. Retired from the pharmaceutical industry, he has lived in Reading since 1985. His interests include researching and writing the history of golf in Berks County.

Seeking an Editor of ACCOUNTS

The Board of the Historical Society seeks expressions of interest regarding the Editorship of ACCOUNTS of Union County History. The main duties are spotting potential articles and authors, editing their manuscripts, and assembling the twice-yearly issues. The current editor, Tom Greaves will be pleased to answer questions of those interested. The editor emphatically need not be a professional historian or published writer. Good writing and organizational skills are the main needs. Contact Tom Greaves at greaves@bucknell.edu
